

Liberal Counsel to Hunt "Tory Goats"

Ottawa, April 29.—In the House today Mr. Borden asked when the marine investigation would commence.

Hon. Broderick answered Friday.

Borden: "Who suggested the appointment of counsel?"

Hon. Broderick: "Judge Cassels expressed a view that he should have legal assistance."

Mr. Borden commented on the fact that the royal civil service commission had left the inquiry in respect to the marine department in an unfinished state, the government not having seen fit to return the report for completion. It might have been the commission had a legal representative at the forthcoming enquiry.

The government had been asked to do this, and also if the people were to have a legal representative, but the government had given no answer.

Now when a minister and the government was a two well-known Liberal had been had been appointed to assist the judge—G. H. Watson, chairman of the Liberal organization in Ontario; and J. L. Perron, who was a partner of the late minister of marine.

He contrasted the Conservative policy in the departmental investigation of 1891, when they named Geoffrey and B. B. Oiler, both associated with the Liberals.

The present minister had more than once shown a disposition to shield himself behind the immediate predecessors.

As Perron had been the partner of the late predecessor, it was easy to see the reason for his appointment.

Hon. Broderick replied, declaring he was anxious to have the inquiry as wide as possible, and told Judge Cassels his desire was that derelict officials be not spared, and those under false suspicion cleared.

"I am thoroughly honest in the matter. I want to see the people satisfied."

The mode of inquiry had been left to the judge himself, and he (Broderick) had been careful to suggest nothing which might in any way restrict the inquiry, we will find truths which had not sought to shield himself behind a dead minister, and pointed out the partnership with Perron ended when Prefontaine became mayor of Montreal, long before he became minister. He concluded by saying: "I trust the truth, the whole truth; and, perhaps, we will find truths which will surprise somebody."

Hon. Fielding combatted the suggestion of Broderick that the investigation was to review the work of the royal commission. The commission had not said too much or too little. The judge's duty was to show whether it was corrupt, and wherein. Nothing in the report reflected on the minister.

He said that the Conservatives had received a civil service commission in 1892, and did nothing in four years.

Mr. Foster replied that that was so, the Liberals did nothing in the 12 years following the reports. It was not a party affair, but a state affair, and the duty of dealing developed on the Liberals when they came in power.

He strongly criticized the minister of Justice or his Newmarket speech which was following the royal commission's report and trying it was

Hon. Aylesworth denied attacking the report. He neither attacked nor even criticized the commission. I only said they stepped outside of their commission. They were appointed to inquire into the civil service, not into the administration. He doubted if the commission had any particular person in mind when they spoke of employees serving two masters.

He defended the appointment of the two Liberal lawyers to assist Judge Cassels. The debate was closed by Hon. Patterson and Dr. Sprague, and the house got into supply shortly before midnight.

Haywood is Down And Out

Denver, April 29.—William D. Haywood for many years secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, has been ousted from the executive board of the organization by the members of that body.

The announcement of this action has appeared in a statement published in the official organ of the Federation, the Miner's Magazine.

This statement said: "To whom it may concern: This is to inform you that the Executive board of the Western Federation of Miners has decided to terminate the services of William D. Haywood as representative of the Western Federation in the field, the name to take effect on the 1st day of April 1908."

"C. R. MAHONEY, Vice-president."

This means Haywood is no longer in the employ of the federation, even as organizer, which position he has held since December, when Ernest Mills was named to supersede him as secretary-treasurer.

The only connection which Haywood now has is a membership of the Silver Lake Idaho lodge, which infiltrated with the parent body.

It is understood that this action marks the waning of the influence of socialism in the Western Federation, and that it was largely taken on this issue, though the chief cause was the fact that members of the order are tired of being dominated by a small band of would-be tyrants.

PORTUGAL'S NEW KING OPENS CORTEZ.

Lisbon, April 29.—The Portuguese Cortez re-assembled to-day on the eighty-second anniversary of the establishment of constitutional government in Portugal. Royal mourning for King Carlos and his son was observed for the occasion.

The gathering of Lisbon turned out at daylight and formed along the route from the palace to the parliament buildings. King Manuel proceeded to the Cortez accompanied by many dignitaries of the state and escorted by a strong guard.

His majesty slowly mounted throne that had been erected for his use. The king's address, which he read in strong and full tones, not unlike those of his father was pathetic and at the same time practical. It touched upon the tragedy of February, when his father and brother were shot down.

"The cruel disappearance of my father and brother," he said, "I hope to work with you," the king said, "in order to bring about happiness and greatness of our country. To these I henceforth dedicate my life and activities."

King Manuel recommended revision of constitution, re-establishment of individual rights, new ex-emption and more careful election law fixing rights of suffrage revision of decrees promulgated by thods of finance.

DOUKHOBORS 'STRANDED AT' YORKTON.

Yorkton, Saskatchewan, April 29.—Seventy-one Doukhobors arrived here at five o'clock this morning by special train. Nineteen of them were recently released from Fort William jail and were shipped here by the Ontario Government in charge of an official of that government. These people are all Baptists and have no intention to go to and establish themselves in any place. Some of their acts are far from decent. There are a few Doukhobors in this vicinity but they will have nothing to do with these vagrants. The town council and Board of Trade have taken action to get rid of them. The Doukhobors are being kept in coaches pending instructions from Regina. Mounted Police are guarding the coaches.

Hard Times in Prince Rupert

Vancouver, April 29.—With no work in sight for four or five weeks, and the majority of them without any money. Prince Rupert population is in a bad way, and to-day men are seeking an existence by living on fish and clam. In spite of warnings issued by the Grand Trunk Pacific and the shipping companies, a horde of men descended on the northern port and camped on every available site, and at present there are a thousand men in the town.

These who have money are managing fairly well but a number went in with little more than their fare, and these are at present reaping the consequences of the ill-advised rush to town in its embryonic stage.

Provisions are high and the unfortunate without money have to depend on the status of the Siwash and the Siwash are "back to nature," grubbing on the beach and among the rocks for food. Some of the northern boats are seriously considering the advisability of cutting out the call at Prince Rupert, on the homeward trip.

In fact, at least a large proportion of men have found work.

The G. T. P. authorities have decided to at once begin work on the clearing of another section of the townsite on Kaien Island. The tract covered by this decision is 400 acres in extent, surrounding the territory which has already been cleared. The work will be done by contract, and tenders for the job in sections are now being called for. The bids are to be in by May 4th.

BONUSSING AGAIN DISCUSSED.

Ottawa, April 29.—In the House today the attention of the government was called to the case of Mrs. Ken dall, agent in London, whose license to act in that capacity there had been refused by the British Board of Trade, which body had taken exception to an advertisement emanating from Mrs. Kendall, which stated that five thousand men were needed at once in Canada. The Liverpool chamber of commerce had declared that the system of obtaining English immigrants followed by some agents was little removed from the methods of crimping seamen. The same chamber of commerce had declared that the Dominion government intended to continue the bonus system all advertisements should be approved by the government and revised from time to time.

Asked for a statement of the government's policy in this matter Premier Laurier promised to present it to the Minister of the Interior, Hon. Frank Oliver, who was absent.

THE KING IN NORWAY.

Christiana, Norway, April 29.—King Edward, who with Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, seems to be keenly enjoying his visit to this city, in proving popular with the Norwegian people. He is already a familiar figure on the streets. Crowds thronged to line of march on the arrival of the royal party. Since then their majesties have walked abroad frequently, inspecting the shipping and the principal buildings and shops.

The city is crowded with visitors from all parts of Norway. The rains have ceased and the sun shines brilliantly. Decorations, the predominant colors of which are red and green, are everywhere in extent and variety. The King leaves for England next Saturday. The queen and princess will probably remain several days longer.

Police Inquiry Adjourned

No Evidence Taken To-day

No evidence was heard at the brief sitting of the special committee to investigate the charges against Chief of Police Patterson this morning, an adjournment being made until tomorrow to allow of the presence of Mr. J. R. Lavelle, who has charge of the defence.

Acting mayor Richards presided, and there were also present Aldermen Bush, Sheppard, Tipton, Somersall, Cameron and Baillie.

Colonel Edwards, K. C., appeared for Constable Harris, who makes the charges. Mr. Allison of Messrs Lavelle & Allen represented Chief Patterson and Mr. Bayfield Williams, of Short, Cross & Biggar, retained the case on behalf of the Edmonton Bulletin, against whom an action for libel by Chief Patterson is pending.

Mr. Allison asked that the prosecution should be required to give particulars of the charges in particular specifying the place, etc., so that a defence might be prepared. A somewhat lengthy argument ensued, Colonel Edwards opposing this course and the committee upholding it. Colonel Edwards argued that the charges had been submitted to the council referred by the council to the committee, and that it was the duty of the committee to deal with the charges as laid. He said in regard to the charge of receiving protection money from the keeper of a house of ill-fame he did not propose to give the names he had subpoenaed, and he was not going to risk their not being in court by divulging their names. The offences alleged were all within Mr. Patterson's knowledge and were capable of being answered by him personally if at all.

Mr. Allison pointed out that he had not asked for the names of witnesses. He had merely asked for particulars as to place and time, etc.

Alderman Sheppard moved that the prosecution be required to furnish the particulars asked by the defence before four o'clock to-day, that the inquiry be adjourned until ten o'clock to-morrow morning, and that charge No. 5 (that referring to the alleged receiving lush money be taken up first.

Speaking to the motion Alderman Sheppard said he made no pretensions to offering any opinion as to the legal merits of the case, but this was a free country and he did not think Mr. Harris or his solicitor could be sufficiently unfair-minded to refuse the defendant the particulars asked for, so that he might be in a position to obtain witnesses and prepare his defence. If this were not done the defence would have to ask for an adjournment in order to prepare a case.

Alderman Cameron seconded the motion and Alderman Bush having also spoken in favor, it was put and carried, all the Aldermen voting for it with the exception of Alderman Tipton, who did not vote.

Colonel Edwards asked that the result of the motion be taken up first, as it might be impossible or difficult to furnish them. He took it that the committee must proceed with the charges or else state that they declined to proceed with the investigation as referred to them.

Mr. Allison suggested that if the prosecution declined to give the particulars the committee were entitled to report this action to the council.

Acting Mayor Richards concurred in this opinion.

Serve The Brute Right

Tatoma, April 29.—Sheriff Morris has announced that he would give Clinton C. Gandy, the insurance man sentenced to one year in prison by Judge Snell for handling his wife and leaving her a prisoner, a room, "some of his own medicine."

"I am going to handcuff the man and shackle him in a cell," said the sheriff, "in a manner as nearly like that in which he treated his wife as possible. It would simply be making the punishment fit the deed, a room, 'some of his own medicine.'"

THE HORRORS OF HAYTI.

New York, April 29.—The French cruiser Desdres is in port from Hayti, where the ship was sent at the time of the recent attempted revolution to look after the French interests. The officers of the ship have many stories to tell of the revolution. While at Port au Prince, Hayti, the Desdres was the haven of eighty revolutionists and officers who took of the horrors of the nocturnal execution on March 15 of a group of men accused of attempting to initiate revolution a few days after President Nord Alexis had quelled the rising against his administration.

There were not enough graves dug for all persons who were shot, and one prominent merchant had to sit and watch the soldiers dig his future place in the earth. The soldiers were in a hurry his grave was dug only of sufficient size to allow him to be buried with his rifle and knapsack together. The bullets failed to kill him and he was tumbling into the hole, which was yet too small.

The grave diggers pushed him in with their shovels, and while they were covering him he sought to protect by moving his hands.

JAPS LANDED FOR ALBERTA.

Vancouver, April 29.—Eleven Japanese men first consignment of settlers for land in the Irrigation belt, purchased by the Japanese company, who is intending to start Oriental colonies in Alberta, arrived on the steamer of India. They were properly passported, and entrance was not opposed by the immigration officials.

The company owning Alberta agricultural lands intends bringing in several hundred coolie laborers.

Indications of Big Wreck

Victoria, April 29.—The steamer Tessa from Vancouver Island coast, brings further information concerning the missing steamer which was ashore near Carmaham.

Roby Daykin who investigated the wreck, was among the passengers of the steamer. He says there is no doubt that the wreckage found is new there was neither alive nor barnacles on the wreckage, which was soon accumulated.

Since the finding of the wreckage previously reported a large amount of empty cases, whiskey cases and others have been found in the vicinity of Nitinat, Stanley Woods, a timber surveyor who came from the vicinity of Nitinat said there was an unusual amount of these cases washed ashore.

There were some large pieces among the wreckage which did not look as though they had come from any smaller sized vessel. Notably part of the garboard streak or ledge broken from the flare of some large vessel.

The wreckage which had broken free of frames etc., was about 25 feet long.

The only make of any thing was the wording "Mackay and White" on some empty whiskey case.

The three trunks found on the rocks westward of Carmaham point, were of the usual American pattern, wood covered with tin. They were broken a few.

THEY FEAR DISTURBANCE.

Hong Kong, April 29.—The Victory of Canton, feared disturbance when the Japanese fleet visits this city has advised the Japanese consul that he thinks the coming of warships will not be expedient. In reply, the consul has explained that this is merely a routine movement, that it was arranged for the larger vessels to remain at Hong Kong while only smaller ships went up the river to Canton. A few Japanese marines will land in Canton in the day time and will be given an escort of Chinese troops.

The Saskatchewan Budget

Regina, April 29.—The annual statement of receipts and expenditures of the province of Saskatchewan was submitted to the legislature this afternoon and shows that the province came through the year 1907-8 with a surplus of $1,167,724, as against a deficit last year of $485,260.14.

The largest revenue receiving branch of the government is shown to be the department of agriculture, which has receipts amounting to nearly $300,000. The treasury department comes next with $248,495.33 to its credit and other departments have receipts amounting under the hundred thousand mark.

The total receipts for the year are $2,120,000, which includes an amount brought forward from last year of $485,260.14. Expenditures for the year amount to $2,419,235.95.

A return brought down shows that the school book contract entered into by the government with Morang & Company of Toronto, calls for supplying of readers to the government at the following rates: Primers, 12 cents each; first readers, 17 cents each; second readers, 19 cents each; third readers, 25 cents each; and fourth readers, 28 cents each.

These books are to be retailed to the people at the following rates: Primers, 20 cents each; first readers, 25 cents each; second readers, 35 cents each; third readers, 45 cents each.

The return shows that the Joint committee appointed to report on the readers was unable to agree and asked to be relieved of its duties.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Police Committee have rightly insisted on the necessity of specification in the affidavits against Cator Peterson. No one knows better than Col. Johnston, B.C., that the attempt to poison the council, into allowing the charges to pass as if present framed affidavits had subjected the case to gross unfairness. If Mr. Hargis desires the public to think that he is acting in good faith there is nothing to prevent him from making a statement by making full and specific charges. This shuffles and dodges police goes to say the least "of its suspicion." If Hargis ever hopes to prove his allegations he must be in possession of the facts. That he refuses to disclose them would suggest that he is anxious to take every mean and little tactical advantage he can of Chief Theberge as he is in no mood to tolerate anything but a direct and immediate disposal of the question.

One of the most intricate situations that has ever been brought about by a responsible government has been disclosed at Ottawa in connection with the civil service investigation. Men have only to reflect on the statement made by the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, the Minister of Justice that the object of Judge Cassels' investigation should be to locate very goats and then to consider the fact that two prominent liberals have been appointed counsel for the system in connection with the investigation and they will at once come to the conclusion that the government does not intend to probe the matter fearlessly and honestly. The whole job is an insult to the public. The only satisfaction is that every official crossed must go through the ordeal of the political column of the Minister Administration.

One of the many ways in which the political game is played at Ottawa is by the appointment of a committee of inquiry to investigate the political situation. The committee is appointed by the government and its members are chosen from among the political leaders. The committee is given a mandate to investigate the political situation and to report back to the government. With the well-known vaudeville duo—"I'm pretty Frank, go up, go, whoa."
 "That doesn't like you, Oh, no, Oh, no!"
 Meanwhile the big mitt is out, and the Provincial Government is warned that the largest contributions are the most thankfully received.

The Calgary Herald says:

"A Toronto woman was arrested for forging the name of her sister-in-law to a registered letter order for $5. She said the money was to be sent her children from the sister-in-law who was in the hospital. The police went to her home and found the children crying of hunger. The sister-in-law insisted on pressing the charge and the magistrate gave her a 'small' sentence—to do hard labor. Yes, awful lot of nice people in Toronto."

The Herald should tread lightly. The Alberta brand of justice is shipped from Toronto. Are not the Hon. C. W. Cross and his underlings Mr. Syd. Weiss from that centre of the university?

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING

Fernie, B.C., April 28.—It has just been learned that a dastardly attempt was made to wreck the mine train on the Canadian Pacific and Grand Pacific railways between Coal Creek and Fernie. A miner walking from the colliery to his home discovered some rails laid across the tracks at a dangerous point on the line near Sitkum, but fortunately was able to remove the obstruction before the passing of any train.

The mine train from Coal Creek invariably brings down a heavy string of loaded cars and two coaches crowded with men returning from work, and had the engine struck the rails so placed, the train would probably have been derailed or hurled into the creek below with an appalling loss of life and destruction to rolling stock. The police have been diligently working on the case ever since and strong hopes are entertained that the perpetrators of the attempted outrage will be apprehended and brought to justice.

ROBBINS IRRIGATION FIGURES.

Ottawa, April 29.—A return was tabled on Tuesday bringing up to date all correspondence relating to the extension of 38,572 acres of land in Alberta to the Robbins Irrigation company. The papers show that the Southern Alberta Land Co., Ltd., of which J. D. McGregor, of Brandon, is president, and which acquired the concession has spent up to the present time on development work $23,000. The assignment of the Robbins Irrigation company to the Southern Alberta Land company was authorized by an order-in-council on Dec. 26, 1906. This company, which has been incorporated in London, England, has a capitalization of $500,000.

Japan as Britain's Enemy

"We've beaten Russia, which is one of the greatest military powers in Europe, and the greatest naval power in the world has had to call in our assistance in order to keep her Asiatic possessions; therefore we are the greatest nation upon the earth!" "That is the way our Japanese allies speak and think," declared an amusing engineer just returned from an important post in Korea. "The old politeness and courtesy of which Lap- leau's heart was so fond forever. Young Japan was the worst manner of the West, and treats all foreigners with hatred and contempt. In Tokio or Yokohama, the Englishman must walk with care, for young Japan has little respect for its powerful ally."

"England! They say scornfully. What is England? But for our protection it would be wiped out of existence."

"The aim of the South, young men of the student class, is 'Japan' for the Japanese, and down with the foreigner." To show their independence they will join arms across the road and sweep a mere Englishman from the pavement. This is not an isolated case, it is the natural product of the country's new spirit, and is con- tracted by the inaction of the au- thorities. Notwithstanding British representations, no adequate punishment has been yet awarded the Japanese soldier who struck an Englishwoman, the wife of an English mining engineer travelling unprotected, in the street. The Vancouver worker Koy- gure was not treated more contemptuously than the British are in many parts of the Japanese Empire.

"I see it stated that the Japanese are rapidly assimilating Western civilization, and from this grave fallacy proceeds the Britisher's joy in having them for allies. It is a dan- gerous error, for the Japanese re- mains a cruel, cunning savage at heart, although he has put on, like a new coat, the manners of the Old World."

"Missionaries report with pride the progress, which Christianity has made in the East, but it is a case of con- version from policy, for from convic- tion, and a Christianized yellow man is usually more mendacious and un- trustworthy than his heathen neigh- bor. If it will forward their political ambitions the Japanese will not be characterized by the honesty and European ethics. It is their policy to come outwardly into line with the West. But yellow skin remains beneath the broadcloth coat, and an outward profession of faith will not alter the yellow man's heart."

"No nation in the world has a lower standard of commercial mor- ality. G. H. Harle talks of the 'wiles of the 'heavenly China' but the fact remains that, while John Chinaman may usually be relied upon to keep his contract, the Japanese will not be bound by the most solemn pledges, if they can make a profit by ignoring them."

"English trade marks are copied in Japan, and goods of local man- ufacture put up exactly in the same manner as those from home and sold as of English manufacture. This with the connivance of the govern- ment after infinite trouble. Messrs. Huchman have obtained an injunction in the Japanese courts to protect their whisky label but the evil ex- tends into every department of the trade. Every well known article is imitated precisely, except in the quality of the goods, from Bryant and May's matches to Nestle's Milk. When the representative of a big Eng- lish firm visits Japan with the idea of selling a proprietary article upon the market, he usually finds he has been anticipated by the substitute, who makes a fortune by trading upon the reputation of the genuine article."

"On the Yangtze-river, there used to be a great market for Manchester goods. Japanese merchants have glutted the market with cheaper ma- terials, made up exactly like the En- glish article and bearing the same marks. As a result, our goods are unsold and our trade ruined. The money we have lent to our ally has been used to cut our throats."

It is feared, not again to traders who use the capital thus obtained to ruin British trade. Those who are making an outcry at home for short- er hours and larger pay will shortly be brought to realize the real peril of our day. English money is being used in Japan to put cheap skilled labor up competition with our home markets. They have no regulations against sweating, food is cheap and wages low. Thus the cost of produc- tion is minimized. Within a few years millions of pounds of profits will be diverted to Japan from the pockets of the other civilisation."

"The Japs have all the patience and cunning of the Jesuits. Beneath an artless exterior they always have some secret plan concocted. Though at present she chooses to imitate, Japan will never adopt western ideals. Every educated Jap looks for the day when the West must kneel under to the East. There are abundant signs that this is the policy of our ally."

"The Japanese government has commenced by subsidizing steamers on which one can take passage from Europe to Japan at a fare twenty per cent less than on the European lines. She is extending this policy to India and Australia also, and before many years have passed it is certain that the Japanese will have driven many of their competitors into bank- ruptcy, and obtained a great share of the ocean's carrying trade."

"Japan has become the apostle of Asiatic predominance. She preaches a gospel of Eastern alliances; Japanese emissaries are to be found in every city of India, stirring up rebellion against our own country. Our treach- erous allies would rejoice to see a second mutiny. Who knows what en- couragement India might get if she again attempted to throw off her beneficent yoke?"

"This alliance of England with a yellow race," said the engineer em- phatically, "is not one to be proud of. In assisting Japan to become a great and predominant Power we are in danger of betraying the white man's cause. International jealousies at home are no defence against so stupendous an accusation. The day may come when European powers must lay aside all jealousies to unite in opposing the uprising of the war- rious East, to battle against the supremacy of a semi-savage race."

"Those who know the East agree that when England made this alliance she committed the most stuporous blunder of the age. She strengthened the hands of a barbarous Asiatic race and sheltered it against aggression in order to secure its existence."

With England therefore must rest a heavy burden of responsibility for the awful contest which must come when Japan has roused her sleeping neighbors in the East. It will be the final Crusade, the Christian West on its defence against the horrors of its heathen domination, and England's present ally will be England's bitter- est foe."

Around the City

There was a large arrival of clerical employees yesterday morning. They were bound for the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod.

The Vaudeville show at the Opera House will be followed by a dance. Steppin' you youthful lovers of the Right, fantasia!

Where is the sprinkler? There has been more dust blowing about during the last day or two than there is like to be again this year.

Acting Mayor Richards is doing splendidly in the chair. There was more business got through at Tuesday's council meeting than has been done for many moons. Why not make May - Richards the permanent Chief Magistrate? Everyone would rejoice.

The Beggar Prince Opera Company visits Strathcona Opera House next week. They will play the ever green Gilbert and Sullivan Opera "The Mikado." We saw this company in this opera two months back and we can honestly say that we have never seen a better performance even in Gilbert's own theatre the Savoy in the Strand, London, England. In a mention the play was received by a packed house. It is difficult for Manager Whitehead to secure these first class companies if they find that Strathcona they play to half filled houses. Mr. Whitehead is doing his very best to please the public and is certainly a hamster. If the Strathcona public do not support him, however, the city will get a bad name among theatrical outfits and there will be difficulty in getting them to come here.

The case against the Strathcona woman who was charged with procuring a girl of seventeen for immoral purposes was heard in Edmonton yesterday behind closed doors. The charges were dismissed. The "young bloods" who were witnesses at the preliminary were missing when the case came on. They were scared.
